

Literacy, Technology & Learning Conference 2018

Sponsored by
East Central/EIU Reading Council,
National Road Reading Council,
EIU Student Reading Council,
MICE-Mid Illinois Computer Educators,
& Central Rural Illinois Partnership

Keynote Speaker: Colleen Sexton

Associate Provost/Associate Vice President Academic Affairs at Governors State University

Keynote Address: Strange Pairings – The Case for Why "Science and Literacy" Should be Removed from that Group!

Just like pickles and ice cream, and the Jimi Hendrix Experience and the Monkees, science and literacy may be considered a strange pairing. How can we use both fiction and non-fiction to pair literacy and science? This session will provide appropriate strategies and resources for engaging students in doing what scientists do, while incorporating Dimension 2 of the Next Generation Science Standards – the Crosscutting Concepts!

Featured Speakers: Patricia Tylka-IRC Past President, Sheila Ruh-2018 ICE Media Specialist Educator of the Year, Sherry Sejnost-IRC Publicity & Publications Chair, Tom Grissom-EIU Director of the Instructional Technology Center, and presentations by outstanding area teachers and EIU faculty.

Date: Saturday,
April 7, 2018

Location: Buzzard Building
(Sign-in outside BB 1501)

Time: 8:15 – 12:20

Price: FREE!
Everyone is invited to attend

Proof of Professional Development and 3 CPDH
Hours provided by Illinois
Reading Council

For More Information contact
Denise Reid
dereid@eiu.edu or Brian Reid
bdreid2@eiu.edu

Pre-Registration

We are using Eventbrite for pre-registration. Copy and paste the link below in your browser to access the registration link. Select Registration and then Checkout. You will enter your information during checkout.
<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/literacy-technology-and-learning-conference-tickets-44077690559>

Topics:
Technology, Reading
Workshop, Writing,
Formative Assessment, Inquiry, and MORE!