

Starved Rock Reading Council Fall Newsletter

A Note from the President...

The summer flew by and we are now up and running with the new school year! I want to start this year off by thanking all those that volunteered, attended or served on a committee to one of SRRC's events last year. We had wonderful year, and wouldn't have without all your help!!!! I may forget to say it at the time, but I truly thank all who helped make the year run so smooth.

Starved Rock Reading Council officers and committee chairs have been busy at work planning another year of fantastic events. Starting of the year with our fall presentation featuring guest speaker, best selling author and Holocaust survivor, Marion Blumenthal Lazan. Mrs. Lazan's message of tolerance, positive thinking, and inner strength is powerful. I highly recommend her presentation and look forward to her visit.

We continue with our community events Snuggle Up! and Dr. Seuss-a-thon in November and March respectively. Bring your family or encourage your students to come and hear our guest readers read from their favorite books! Mark your calendars for our Winter Social in February and Young Author Celebration in April.

I encourage you to check back to our SRRC website for all the latest updates and news!

Welcome Back!
