

2025 IRC CONFERENCE PRELIMINARY PROGRAM

ILLINOIS READING COUNCIL

LIBERATING

LITERACY

Embrace Love, Joy, & Empowerment

March 13 - 14, 2025
Springfield, Illinois

IRC believes...

- ★ literacy is a fundamental human right.
- ★ literacy is a powerful tool for justice and equity and must be protected as a right for all students.
- ★ in diversity, equity, and inclusion because representation matters.
- ★ in protecting reader's rights, which include access to learning in a variety of methods, access to books, and access to choice.
- ★ in the importance of libraries and librarians.
- ★ in promoting the joy of reading, writing, and the power of story for lifelong learning.
- ★ educators need to be equipped with peer-reviewed, sustainable, research-based practices.
- ★ equitable assessment is a blend of informal and formal measures that informs instruction.
- ★ learners have different strengths and needs, and therefore should have access to peer-reviewed, research-based strategies, methods, and practices within differentiated multi-tiered systems of support.
- ★ educators need access to high quality resources and professional development that prepares them to be flexible and adaptable to best serve their students.
- ★ families are an integral part of children's literacy lives.
- ★ in celebrating creators of children's literature and young adult literature.
- ★ that education is a valued profession, and therefore educators must be trusted and empowered as decision-makers.
- ★ in community, collaborative conversations, and collegiality.

Laurie Halse Anderson

Laurie Halse Anderson will be the first to tell you that her writing is not about “problems” but “resilience.” She writes stories with strong characters who overcome injustice and challenges. She provides a voice to the voiceless with award-winning books, such as Chains, Wintergirls, Independent Dames, Catalyst, The Impossible Knife of Memory. Her 1999 novel Speak was a National Book Award finalist, Printz Honor book, and has appeared on the list of the most banned books every year since its publication. Twenty years later, she released her New York Times bestselling memoir-in-verse, Shout, about surviving sexual assault at the age of thirteen. In recognition of her impressive body of work and tireless work against censorship, she is the 2023 winner of the prestigious Astrid Lindgren Memorial Award for outstanding contribution to children’s and young adult literature and has been recognized by the National Coalition Against Censorship and the National Council of Teachers of English. She is a member of RAINN’s National Leadership Council and frequently speaks about supporting survivors of sexual assault and bringing perpetrators to justice.

Darcie Little Badger

When Darcie Little Badger was in the first grade, she wrote a 40-page mystery involving a murdered garden and opals in an attic. Her storytelling continues today as an earth scientist with a PhD in oceanography, a writer, and a fan of the weird, beautiful, and haunting. She draws on the traditional Lipan Apache storytelling structure to weave together fantasy, nature, family, and justice. Her Locus Award-winning debut novel, Elatsoe, was a National Indie Bestseller named to over a dozen best-of-year lists and featured in Time Magazine as one of the best 100 fantasy books ever. Her second novel, A Snake Falls to Earth, received a Nebula Award, an Ignyte Award, a Newbery Honor, and was longlisted for the National Book Award for Young People’s Literature. She has contributed to several compilations featuring Indigenous voices. Her latest book, Sheine Lende, deepens and expands her one-of-a-kind world and introduces us to another cast of characters that will wind their way around readers’ hearts.

Cozbi A. Cabrera

This year’s Prairie State Award winner, Cozbi A. Cabrera, finds joy in creating things that provide a place of sense and memory. After receiving a BFA from Parsons School of Design, Cozbi was an art director creating music packaging in New York. She left her dream job to make handmade collectible cloth dolls (Muñecas) in honor of her Honduran heritage. Her dolls and other textile work have been featured on the Oprah Winfrey Show, Martha Stewart Living, catalogues as well as the Jewish Fund Gallery, Ernest Rubenstein Galleries, and the Lincoln Center Education Art Gallery. Her talent also translates to books. She is the author/illustrator of Me & Mama, which won a 2021 Coretta Scott King Honor and a Caldecott Honor and My Hair is a Garden. She has also collaborated with authors such as Suzanne Slade (Exquisite: The Poetry and Life of Gwendolyn Brooks), Leslé Honoreé (Brown Girl, Brown Girl), Patricia McKissack (Stitchin’ and Pullin’ A Gees Bend Quilt), and Nikki Grimes (Thanks A Million).

Dare Coulter

You can't spell heart without art, and Dare Coulter has worked to create a career that focuses on heartfelt presentations of the human experience, life, joy, and resilience. She is an award-winning professional sculptor, artist, muralist, and illustrator. She has illustrated ten children's books, including Kwame Alexander's An American Story which earned the 2024 Coretta Scott King Illustrator Book Award, as well as her adaptation of the nursery rhyme You Are My Sunshine. Dare creates imagery that reflects the fullness and vibrancy of the black cultural experience in all of her books and artwork. Some of her most notable work includes a commissioned painting of Nina Simone for the National Trust for Historic Preservation, a 200-foot mural in Greensboro honoring oft-unmentioned black cowboys, and a monument to black joy and resilience on the University of North Carolina campus at Wilmington. Her dream is to create monumental sculptures for black joy and share her passion for art all over the world.

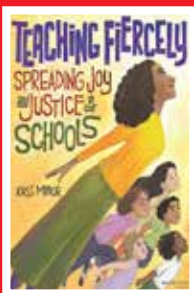

Candace Fleming

Candace Fleming awarded herself the Newbery Medal in fifth grade after scraping the gold sticker off the class copy of The Witch of Blackbird Pond and pasting it onto her first novel—a ten-page, ten-chapter mystery called Who Done It? She's been collecting her own awards ever since. Today, Candace is the versatile and acclaimed author of more than forty award-winning books, including biographies, picture books, middle-grade novels, nonfiction, and teen novels for young readers. She has tackled historical nonfiction using a narrative voice that employs a blend of humor and research to tell stories such as The Family Romanov: Murder, Rebellion, and the Fall of the Russian Empire; The Enigma Girls: How Ten Teenagers Broke Ciphers, Kept Secrets, and Helped Win World War II, and her upcoming Death in the Jungle: Murder, Betrayal, and the Lost Dream of Jonestown. Her picture books bring information and joy to younger readers, such as the Sibert Award winners Giant Squid and Honeybee: The Busy Life of APis Mellifera.

Liz Kleinrock

Liz Kleinrock (she/her) understands the intersectionality of identity more than most. She is a Korean-American transracial adoptee, queer, Jewish, antibias, and antiracist educator of both children and adults. Her journey to embrace her complex identity and find spaces for belonging has shaped her transformative work in helping educators create anti-bias curricula featuring inquiry-based units of study for K-12 students. She practices what she preaches as she has taught across the country in various grades. In 2018, Liz received the Teaching Tolerance Award for Excellence in Teaching, and in 2019, she delivered her TED Talk, "How to Teach Kids to Talk about Taboo Topics." In the spring of 2021, Liz released her bestselling book for educators, Start Here, Start Now: A Guide to Antibias and Antiracist Work in Your School Community. Her work is about reaching kids, so she doesn't limit herself to writing to educators. She has also co-written picture books representing her history and identity, including Eyes That Weave the World's Wonders and What Jewish Looks Like.

Kass Minor

Kass Minor believes in the power of teachers to create a community for learning and justice. She is an inclusive educator and community organizer deeply involved in local, inquiry-based teacher research and school community development. She is the author of Teaching Fiercely: Spreading Joy and Justice in Our Schools. While she has worked in partnership with the University of Chicago, Teachers College, The Author Village, and the New York City Department of Education, the classroom teacher is her most coveted role. Kass reads books like other people listen to albums; the classroom is her concert space. While Kass's organizing work in school communities is inspired by her NorthStars Myles Horton and Fannie Lou Hamer, her pedagogy is centered on joy from the communities that surround her and motivated by the idea that every adult can teach and every student can learn. Teacherhood, paired with motherhood, has driven her love of information sharing and redefining who gets to be a knower in the fiery world we live in today.

Ernest Morrell

It would be impossible to capture all of Ernest Morrell's accomplishments in a short biography. Since 2015, he has been annually ranked among the top university-based education scholars and has been recognized by many organizations for his work. His dedication to critical pedagogy and literacy is evident as the Associate Dean of Humanities and Equity in the College of Arts and Letters, a Coyle Professor in English and Africana Studies, and Director of the Center for Literacy Education at Notre Dame. He is also the Director of NCTE's Squire Office for Policy Research, an elected National Academy of Education member, and an American Educational Research Association fellow. He has authored or co-authored nearly 120 articles, chapters, and books, including Tuned in Teaching: Centering Youth Culture for an Active and Just Classroom and Tell Your Story: Teaching Students to Become World-Changing Thinkers and Writers. He has partnered with multiple publishers to develop inclusive curricula, such as Savvas' My Perspectives and My View.

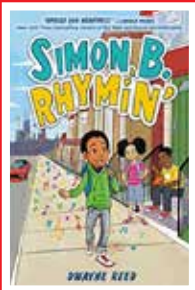

Adam Peterson

Adam Peterson embraces the best of humanity by reminding us to find the people who make our days brighter and "be the yellow" for others. He is an award-winning educator from Illinois and an internationally recognized speaker. After spending more than a decade as a kindergarten teacher, Adam uses his knowledge and talents to inspire, educate, and motivate other teachers to create classrooms that encourage creativity, play, and engagement. Adam is a best-selling author who has written several children's books, such as Yellow and My Teacher Has Feelings Too. He also spreads his message of kindness and joy to teachers with his two professional books – Teach, Play, Learn! and The Science Box. Adam is also a TEDx speaker, and his message of making the world a brighter place through his Be The Yellow talk and campaign has reached schools around the globe with videos and assemblies for kids. He has a must-listen podcast, "On My Way to School," designed to inspire and motivate teachers across all grades and content.

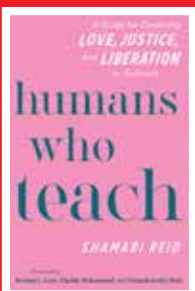

Darius Phelps

Darius Phelps is a writer who writes because he chooses to. Ask him to drop a few lines, and your heart will intertwine with his as he lays out his truth. He has been known to share his poetry at venues ranging from city hotspots to stuffy hotel conference rooms. A PhD Candidate at Teachers College, Columbia University, he is the Assistant Director of Programs under The Center for Publishing & Applied Liberal Arts (PALA) department at NYU. An educator, poet, spoken word artist, and activist, Darius writes poems about grief, liberation, emancipation, and reflection through the lens of a teacher of color and experiencing Black boy joy. His poems have appeared in the NY English Record, NCTE English Journal, Pearl Press Magazine, ëN Magazine, and many more. He shares how to create liberating spaces for students by demonstrating how teachers can use their stories to reflect, strengthen their literacy instruction, and cultivate a space of bravery, healing, and love in their classrooms.

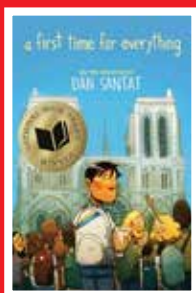

Dwayne Reed

Dwayne Reed is the teacher you always wished you had! He is America's Favorite Rapping Teacher and the Chief Enthusiasm Officer (CEO) of TeachMrReed, the global education company inspiring the world to make learning fun again. After becoming a viral sensation with his YouTube series, Mr. Reed Reads, and appearances on Good Morning America, World News Tonight, BBC News, and The Jimmy Kimmel Live Show, he added writer to his repertoire with his children's books, Simon B Rhymin' series and All Good in the Hood. In the not too distant future, his new book for teachers will be released, and it is guaranteed to equip teachers to embrace joy, justice, and humanity in their classrooms. As an avid philanthropist, Mr. Reed has partnered with iconic brands that include 3M, Old Navy, Arby's, and Abbott Laboratories to celebrate educators and raise awareness of youth issues. Mr. Reed also supports countless youth charities, after-school programs, and educational nonprofits dedicated to student-centered learning and academic achievement.

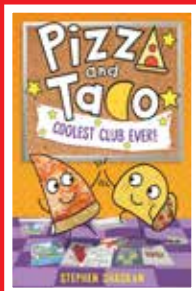

Shamari Reid

Shamari Reid (he/him/his) wants everyone to know they are special and worthy just as they are. He has spent his career centering love. He is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Teaching and Learning at NYU. As a scholar, Shamari's work explores how Black trans and queer youth and their communities sustain themselves amidst oppression, as well as how we can collaborate with these communities to better transform schools into sites of equitable opportunities for Black LGBTQ+ youth. His dissertation was awarded the 2022 Dissertation of the Year Award by the Queer Studies SIG of AERA. In addition, his work examines radical love as a moral imperative toward creating culturally sustaining school communities for all students and the teachers who guide them. In his latest book, Humans Who Teach: A Guide to Centering Love, Justice, and Liberation in Schools, he shares his heart to remind educators they are "first and foremost human," and it is within that humanity they can nurture all students.

Dan Santat

Dan Santat wore an old Wimbledon t-shirt under his tux for luck at the National Book Awards, and it must have paid off – even though he didn’t need it. He is the well-deserved 2023 National Book Award for Young People’s Literature winner for his heartwarming middle-grade graphic novel, A First Time For Everything. He is also the Caldecott Medal-winning creator of The Adventures of Beekle: The Unimaginary Friend, the #1 New York Times-bestselling Are We There Yet?, and the New York Times-bestselling book After the Fall (How Humpty Dumpty Got Back Up Again) as well as over a hundred other young people’s books. He has collaborated with numerous children’s book authors and illustrators, including Dav Pilkey (Ricky Ricotta’s Mighty Robot series), Samantha Berger (Crankenstein), Minh Le (Drawn Together, Lift, The Blur, Built to Last), Lisa Yee (The Misfits series), and Laurel Snyder (Endlessly Ever After). As if that does not keep him busy enough, he is the creator of The Replacements animated television series.

Stephen Shaskan

Stephen Shaskan has always loved comics – reading them and making them! He grew up reading Marvel, DC, Harvey Comics, and Mad Magazine and created his first comic, Super Grandpa, in elementary school. He is also a talented musician who plays the guitar, keyboard, and bass and has performed in multiple bands. He is the author and illustrator of several picture books, including Big Choo, Toad on the Road, Max Speed, The Three Triceratops Tuff, and A Dog Is a Dog, which was featured in the New York Public Library’s “Best Picture Books of the Year” list. His graphic novel series Pizza and Taco is a massive hit, and two more installments will be released soon. He has found a great partner in his wife, whom he met at an elementary school where he was teaching art and she was teaching writing. Together, they have collaborated on several books, including Punk Skunks and the graphic novel series Q and Ray.

Trisha Speed Shaskan

Trisha Speed Shaskan always wanted to be Wonder Woman. She even had the tiara and the bangles to imagine herself as the mighty warrior. Following her writing dreams, she earned an MFA in creative writing from Minnesota State University, Mankato. She uses that powerful imagination today to write stories filled with wit, inspiring children to dig into their artistry to write their own stories. She has written over fifty books for children, including her most recent picture book, The Itty-Bitty Witch, illustrated by Xindi Yan, Honestly, Red Riding Hood Was Rotten!: The Story of Little Red Riding Hood As Told by the Wolf, and If You Were a Plus Sign. She has also collaborated on several books with her favorite illustrator, her husband, Stephen Shaskan, whom she met while teaching at the same elementary school. Their books include Punk Skunks and the Q & Ray graphic novel series for young readers. Trisha still enjoys visiting elementary schools, independent bookstores, and libraries, where she shares her passion for literature and writing.

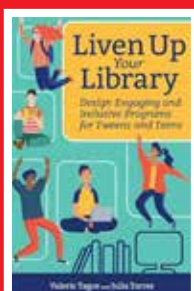

Amy Stewart

Amy Stewart understands the power of mentorship in helping students grow their literacy skills and is a great mentor. She is a literacy specialist, coach, and consultant who primarily works and learns alongside teachers and students in a small school district on the North Shore of Chicago. She also travels to districts nationwide to participate in their literacy journeys. Her work focuses on supporting educators as they implement research-based best practices while engaging students in literacy instruction. A former classroom teacher, Amy understands the importance of the role of an educator. She strives to keep practicality and responsive teaching in mind when designing learning opportunities for adults and children. She is the author of Little Readers, Big Thinkers: Teaching Close Reading in the Primary Grades, a book centered on the idea that knowledge building through reading and writing experiences is essential, even (and especially) for young children. She believes in the power of literacy and works toward reading and writing success for all.

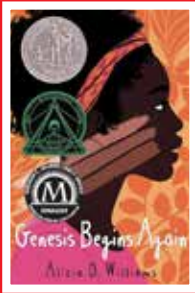

Duncan Tonatiuh

Duncan Tonatiuh (toh-nah-tee-YOU) has always straddled two cultures, and that experience has shaped his work. He grew up in San Miguel de Allende, Mexico, and moved to the United States when he was 15. Inspired by the Mixtec codex, Tonatiuh's art bridges the cultural divide between the Latino experience in Latin America and the United States and all intersections. He aims to create images and stories that honor the past but are relevant to people, especially children today. His awards include a Pura Belpré Medal and multiple honors, the Robert F. Sibert Medal, the Tomás Rivera Mexican American Children's Book Award, the Américas Award, the Jane Addams Children's Book Award, and multiple Texas Bluebonnet Award Master List selections and New York Times Best Illustrated Books mentions. His critically acclaimed works include Diego Rivera: His World and Ours, Pancho Rabbit and the Coyote, Separate Is Never Equal, Funny Bones, Soldier For Equality, Child of the Flower-Song People, his latest book, Game of Freedom, and many others.

Julia E. Torres

Julia E. Torres' love language comes in the form of books, which she shares with the world through her work as a teacher-activist committed to education as a practice of freedom. She is a nationally recognized veteran language arts teacher, librarian, and teen programs administrator in Denver, Colorado. Her practice is grounded in the work of empowering students to use Language Arts to fuel transformative resistance and social progress. Julia has been awarded the 2020 NCTE Colorado Affiliate Teacher of Excellence award and chosen as a 2020 Library Journal Mover and Shaker. She serves on the Educator Collective, the Book Love Foundation, and as a Co-founder of #DisruptTexts. Her work has been featured across several platforms, including NCTE, NPR, AlJazeera's The Stream, PBS, MindShift, New York Times, The Chicago Tribune, ASCD, Rethinking Schools, School Library Journal, and many more. Her co-authored title, Liven Up Your Library: Design Engaging and Inclusive Programs for Teens and Tweens, is the first of many forthcoming publications for librarians and educators.

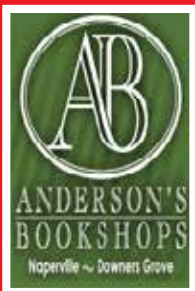

Alicia D. Williams

Alicia D. Williams likes chunky guacamole, shiny things, dancing, good stories, and great jokes. She creates books that inspire empathy and hope. A graduate of the American Musical and Dramatic Academy in New York, she's performed in commercials and theater, written plays, and performed in a one-woman show, A Time to Remember. As if that isn't impressive enough, she is the award-winning author of Genesis Begins Again, which was a William C. Morris finalist, and received the Newbery and Kirkus Prize honors, the Coretta Scott King – John Steptoe Award for New Talent, and the Audie award for her audiobook performance. Alicia also debuted a picture book biography, Jump at the Sun: The True Life Tale of Unstoppable Storycatcher Zora Neale Hurston, and followed up with Jane Addams Peace Award-winning Shirley Chisholm Dared: The Story of the First Black Woman in Congress. Her latest picture book, The Talk, won both Coretta Scott King and Golden Kite Honors. Alicia now celebrates her new novel-in-verse, Mid-Air.

Kristin Ziemke

Kristin Ziemke celebrates innovative learning practices where thinking is at the heart of the curriculum. She is a teacher, staff developer, and co-author of Read the World: Rethinking Literacy for Empathy and Action, Amplify: Digital Teaching and Learning in the K-6 Classroom, and Connecting Comprehension and Technology. Recognized as an international expert in literacy, inquiry, and technology, Kristin works with schools and organizations worldwide to develop learning experiences that are student-centered, personalized, and authentic. Currently serving as a resident teacher and innovation specialist for the Big Shoulders Fund, Kristin is an Apple Distinguished Educator, National Board Certified Teacher, and Chicago Council on Global Affairs Emerging Leader. Her work has been featured by Apple, EdWeek, Mindshift, and Scholastic.

Becky Anderson Wilkins

Becky Anderson Wilkins is synonymous with books. She is recognized worldwide as a leading independent book retailer who has tirelessly promoted the importance of reading and value of book publishing. As the owner of Anderson's Bookshops in Naperville and Downers Grove, Illinois, Becky built the company's reputation to such stature that it attracts prestigious author visits for hundreds of signing events and two annual literature conferences each year. She is committed to the community and partners with local school districts to raise funds for books. Becky won a Hall of Fame Award from the Illinois Reading Council, among many other honors. In 2011, Anderson's BookShops was named Publisher's Weekly Bookstore of the Year—one of the highest accolades a book retailer can receive, and she personally delivered books to the White House Library, where she met President Obama. Her work carries on today as Becky continues advocating for independent bookstores, and Anderson's remains a force in the bookstore world, providing everyone with a heartfelt home for joyous reading.

Illinois Reads Authors

Plan now to attend the Illinois Reads Author Panels at the 2025 Illinois Reading Council Conference! Featured authors will be from the 2025 Illinois Reads Books! There are three panels planned for Birth to 2nd Grade, Kindergarten to 5th Grade, and 6th to 12th Grade during the conference. Come participate in this exciting chance to meet and greet Illinois Reads Authors as they share the inspiration for their stories and current projects they are working on, and ask questions you've been anxious to know about your favorite characters. Following the sessions, authors will also be autographing their books in the Exhibit Hall at the Bank of Springfield Center. Books will also be available for purchase in the exhibit hall.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT CLOCK HOURS

The Illinois Reading Council is an approved ISBE Professional Development Provider. Registered attendees can earn one (1) clock hour for each session attended. Please note that meal functions and other events are also only one (1) clock hour. Registered presenters can also earn up to eight (8) clock hours for presenting a session. At the end of the conference, plan to submit the sessions that you attended and/or presented via the Record of Sessions Attended Form provided by IRC.

Please review your personal License Renewal Plan to determine which sessions fit. Be sure that your goals are broad enough to include a variety of literacy topics. The Illinois Reading Council is merely the provider. The responsibility for determining which sessions agree with your plan and are granted credits by your school district is yours.

The Illinois Reading Council will process the forms following the conference. Your clock hours will be entered directly into the ISBE PD Plus System. When entered, you will receive an email notification to log into your ISBE ELIS Account to complete the ISBE Evaluation Form through the ISBE PD Plus System. Once completed, you can print off your ISBE Evidence Form to keep for your records and your clock hours will be automatically added to your ISBE ELIS Account.

GENERAL CONFERENCE INFORMATION

Please take a moment to read the information below regarding the 2025 IRC Conference.

- IRC Conference is an Open Forum

The IRC Conference serves as an open forum and exchange of ideas and opinions. Opinions that are expressed by featured speakers, program presenters, and participants do not reflect endorsements by the Illinois Reading Council.

- Conference Sessions

All conference sessions will be held in the Bank of Springfield Center, President Abraham Lincoln Hotel, and Wyndham Hotel.

- Pre-Registration & Registration

Pre-registered conferees may obtain their registration packets at the Registration Desk in the Exhibit Hall at the Bank of Springfield Center. On-site registration is also available. Hotel reservations and meal function tickets should be secured prior to arrival in Springfield. Registration Hours: Wednesday, March 12 – 5:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m. Thursday, March 13 – 7:00 a.m. - 2:00 p.m. Friday, March 14 – 7:00 a.m. - 2:00 p.m.

- ISBE PD Clock Hours

IRC is an approved ISBE Professional Development Provider. Registered conference attendees can earn up to one clock hour for each session attended. Registered presenters can also earn up to eight clock hours for presenting a session. At the end of the conference, plan to submit your clock hours for the sessions that you attended and/or presented at the conference via an online form. The ISBE Evidence of Participation will be sent to you about two weeks after the conference.

- Admission to Meetings

Paid conferees receive a badge with their registration packet. Badges are required at all times and for all conference functions. Seating will be on a first-come, first-served basis. Pre-purchased tickets are required for all meal functions.

- Special Accommodations

Individuals who need special accommodations should make specific requests in writing to the IRC office three weeks prior to the conference in order for their needs to be met.

- Food

All scheduled meal functions require pre-purchased tickets. The concession area in the Bank of Springfield Center will be open during exhibit hours. Springfield restaurant information will be available at the hospitality table in the Exhibit Hall at the Bank of Springfield Center.

- Hospitality & Information Table

A hospitality and information table is located in the Exhibit Hall at the Bank of Springfield Center.

- Message Board

There will be a message board for conferees to leave notes in the registration area in the Exhibit Hall at the Bank of Springfield Center. A phone line (309-454-1341) has been established at the Registration Desk to receive emergency phone calls.

- Lost and Found

Inquire at the Registration Desk in the Exhibit Hall at the Bank of Springfield Center regarding lost and found items. IRC is not responsible for lost or stolen items.

- Parking Options

Downtown Springfield has many public parking options that cost anywhere from $5 to $10 a day to park. Details on the public parking will be available under the Resource Tab in the Conference APP.

- Program Book and Conference APP

In accordance with ILA guidelines, individuals have not been designated by titles. Acknowledgments to publishers and other companies for sponsoring speakers and special events are current as of this printing. Information in this program is subject to change. Don't forget to bring a device to download the Conference App or the PDF of the Final Program Book as there will not be a printed Final Program Book.

- No Smoking

In consideration of others we request your cooperation in observing the NO SMOKING regulations inside buildings.

- Cell Phones

Please silence phones during sessions at the conference.

- Videotaping/Audiotaping/Photos

Unless notified in writing, registration to the conference constitutes an agreement that the registrant's image, likeness, and appearance can be used in photographs of such events and activities. It is also not permitted to videotape, audiotape, or take photos of conference speakers without the speaker's consent.

- Anti-Harassment Policy

The Illinois Reading Council (IRC) does not allow harassment or discrimination of any kind at any IRC affiliated event. IRC and its affiliates will take appropriate and immediate action in response to complaints or knowledge of violations of this policy including removal from the event. To report an issue, please visit the Event Registration Desk.

- Cancellation/Refund Policy

Conference refund requests must be in writing and postmarked by February 1, 2025. Requests can also be faxed to (309) 454-3512 or emailed to irc@illinoisreadingcouncil.org. A $25 processing fee will be assessed. Please note that membership fees are non-refundable. Conference registrations are transferable, but replacement names must be requested by March 5, 2025.

Join educators from all over the state in the online Fall 2024 IRC Book Club! Choose one, two, or all three books!

Read, reflect on, and respond to The Playful Classroom: The Power of Play for All Ages by Jed Dearybury and Julie P. Jones and/or Get Free: Antibias Literacy Instruction for Stronger Readers, Writers, and Thinkers by Tricia Ebarvia and/or Translanguaging for Emergent Bilinguals: Inclusive Teaching in the Linguistically Diverse Classroom by Danling Fu, Xenia Hadjioannou, and Xiaodi Zhou.

Beginning October 20, educators will participate in online discussions for the next seven-weeks. With The Playful Classroom, participants will learn how and why they should bring play into the classroom to make learning meaningful, relevant, and fun. With Get Free, participants will explore a framework that can help implement transformative and antibias literacy instruction where students better understand themselves, others, and the world. With Translanguaging for Emergent Bilinguals, participants will examine the development, evolution, and current realities of educating emergent bilinguals and where the future of emergent bilingual education lies in an inclusive translanguaging pedagogy.

Participants who complete all assignments will be eligible to receive 15 PD clock hours for each book club. Required for participation:

Classroom Talk and Literacy Learning

The ways in which we talk with students and arrange for them to talk with each other have substantial effects on their literacy learning. This webinar examines the relationships among classroom talk, student engagement, and individual and collective student development. It shows how the classroom choices we make, particularly our language choices, influence the qualities of the classroom learning community along with students' literate, social and emotional development.

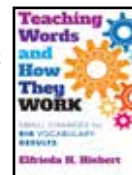

February 5, 2025 ~ Elfrieda H. Hiebert

Applying the Science of Reading in Vocabulary to Build Comprehension and Engagement

In this presentation, Freddy will share valuable insights from recent scholarly research, highlighting how vocabulary instruction can effectively support students in three key areas: expanding their word knowledge, enhancing their ability to comprehend complex texts, and facilitating the construction of knowledge from these texts. Freddy will delve into the research that shows how students can have strategies and enthusiasm for deciphering the meanings of unfamiliar words within complex texts.

AI in the Literacy Classroom: Friend or Foe?

Is Artificial Intelligence a revolutionary tool for literacy instruction or a threat to traditional teaching methods? This webinar explores the dilemma of AI in education. We'll examine how AI can enhance learning and save time and discuss concerns about over-reliance on technology and potential biases. Join us to critically assess AI's role in shaping the future of literacy education and decide: Is AI a valuable ally or a challenging adversary in our classrooms?

Understanding, Assessing, and Teaching Our Students with Dyslexia

Dyslexia is a disorder with emotional, behavioral, and social impacts. Our understanding has deepened with new technologies being used by researchers to study the complex brain functions involved in reading and writing. While the IDA has developed a definition of dyslexia based on a convergence of reading science, there still is not universal agreement on how to define it. A number of myths and misunderstandings continue to persist regarding this neurobiological disorder which must be addressed and dispelled.

Empowerment Through Storytelling

St. Clair Detrick-Jules will share her journey to becoming an author, photojournalist, and public speaker. She'll touch on her writing process, finding subjects to include in her work, and creating spaces for people to share their stories. Themes will include representation of marginalized groups in media, cultivating community empowerment, and narrative storytelling as a vehicle of self-empowerment and social change.

Why Don't My Best (Word) Readers Comprehend Text? Reading Science to Support Self-Regulated Comprehension

Some students seem to have the necessary skills they need to be good readers, yet still struggle with putting all of these things together in order to comprehend texts. In this session, we will look beyond these familiar skills to explore essential thinking skills, called executive skills, that support successful word reading and reading comprehension. Executive skills are self-regulatory skills that help students manage their thoughts, emotions, actions, and involve things like working memory, self-control, and mental flexibility.

African Conceptualizations of Trauma

Group analysis has much to contribute to our understanding of ourselves and the world. It requires us to be deliberate, effortful and reflective; so we may start to see forms of violence which often go unnoticed and within been which we are all implicated. In this talk, we will do just that as we explore the importance of witnessing and storytelling for the survival of black groups across the globe. Trauma constitutes a form of (a)temporal and (a)spatial bodily archives which ensures that the memory of the suffering of those who came before us is kept alive across timespace and geopolitical boundaries.

Students Should OWN It! Fostering Secondary Students' Ability to Independently Navigate Complex Texts

Our goal is always for students to be able to navigate this world independently by applying what they learn from us. We can support that goal by not only teaching students how to use strategies, but how to independently transfer those strategies to new and unfamiliar texts. Join us in learning how to foster students' independence when working with complex text.

MISSION

The mission of the Illinois Reading Council is to provide support and leadership to all who promote and teach lifelong literacy.

VISION

The Illinois Reading Council advocates for high-quality literacy opportunities that empower all learners. As a leading literacy organization, the IRC provides access to research, materials, and methodologies to teach literacy and promote lifelong learning. As an active well-organized system of local and special interest councils and state committees, the IRC provides a supportive network for grass-roots involvement and the exchange of information for a diverse membership.
